

1 - GENERAL INFORMATION

1.3 - City Organizational Structure

Each department has a Department Director who is responsible to the City Administrator for the work of that department. In some departments, the work is further subdivided with a supervisor responsible to the Department Director for each such part of the work in the department.

Your supervisor will see that you are acquainted with your fellow employees, with the duties of your job, and with other matters connected with the job. He or she will be available to answer your questions, to offer advice, and to inform you about your progress in your work.
